Music Teacher

Maple Street School is looking for a music teacher with a special focus on instrumental music who will teach and inspire K-8 students of all musical abilities beginning September 2, 2009.

Maple Street School is a small independent K-8 day school in Manchester, VT. Our philosophy states: “We care committed to excellence: in language arts, in mathematics; physical, life and environmental sciences; geography and history; the arts, music drama, foreign language, computer literacy, and physical education. We believe an enriched curriculum promotes a full awareness of the world, and respect for cultural differences. We are committed to developing environmental awareness and an appreciation of the natural world in order that our students become informed, responsible stewards of the land. The visual and performing arts are vital, for we believe that creativity in art, music, movement, and drama enhances the child’s capacity to attain and synthesize all knowledge and concepts.”

The position is designed for a new teacher – it is full time with 30% more prep time and a mentor. Salary is $20,000.00 and in addition, there is a $4,500.00 health care benefit and a $6,000.00 housing allowance.

We are dedicated to instilling a love, appreciation and understanding of music, and we are looking for someone to help sustain and grow our 10 year old program.
